Granting and Managing a Conditional Curtailment Option (CCO) Reservation

Pursuant to NAESB WEQ-001-21.1.1, a Transmission Provider is not required to offer a CCO (termed Conditional Firm Service in Order 890) if the Transmission Provider has been granted an exemption or waiver of such requirement.

In FERC Docket No. ER08-54 UI, as one of the PTO member's of ISO New England, who was approved as the Regional Transmission Organization (RTO) for the New England Control Area by the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission (FERC), filed for waiver from this requirement. On May 7, 2008 FERC accepted the PTO's compliance filing for Order 890.
